Report on Birthday Celebration of Swami Vivekananda

- Date: 13th January 2024
- Time: 2:00 PM
- Venue: College Seminar Room
- Organized by: IQAC

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of the college organized a special event to celebrate the birthday of Swami Vivekananda on 13th January 2024 at 2:00 PM in the College Seminar Room. The program aimed to honor the life, teachings, and enduring legacy of one of India's greatest spiritual leaders and youth icons.

The event began with the ceremonial lighting of the lamp, followed by a floral tribute to Swami Vivekananda's portrait. The Principal delivered an inaugural address, highlighting Swami Vivekananda's contributions to Indian philosophy, education, and youth empowerment. His emphasis on self-confidence, character-building, and service to humanity was particularly stressed as a guiding principle for students.

Students and faculty members presented speeches, recitations, and songs based on Swami Vivekananda's inspiring thoughts. Selected excerpts from his famous addresses, including the iconic speech at the Parliament of the World's Religions in Chicago (1893), were read aloud, leaving a deep impact on the audience.

The seminar commenced with a welcome address by a senior faculty member, highlighting the growing importance of financial literacy in today's unpredictable economic environment.

Mr. Arindam Kasuri, an experienced financial advisor, led the first session, where he discussed the concepts of risk and return management. He explained how understanding risk tolerance and asset allocation are crucial for building a sound investment portfolio. Practical examples and case studies helped the participants grasp how to balance potential returns with acceptable levels of risk.

Following this, representatives from Sharekhan Limited elaborated on various investment options such as stocks, mutual funds, and bonds, while emphasizing the importance of informed decision-making in wealth creation and preservation.

The second half of the seminar was conducted by experts from NivaBupa Health Insurance, who discussed health insurance as a crucial tool for financial protection. They explained different types of health insurance plans, the benefits of early investment in insurance, and how medical emergencies could impact personal savings if not planned properly.

The seminar concluded with an interactive Q&A session where students and faculty members asked insightful questions about financial planning, investment strategies, and selecting appropriate health insurance policies. The session was highly engaging and practical, providing participants with valuable knowledge to apply in real-life financial planning.

The event successfully raised awareness about the importance of financial management and health security in modern life, equipping attendees with strategies to ensure long-term wealth preservation and financial well-being.

The Prize Distribution Ceremony on 1st March 2024 at 12:30 PM was a highly anticipated event in the college calendar, taking place in the College Seminar Room and organized by the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC). This annual event is aimed at recognizing and celebrating the academic and extracurricular achievements of students throughout the academic year. It also serves as a motivational platform for students to strive for excellence.

The ceremony began with a welcome address by the Principal, who highlighted the significance of consistent effort, dedication, and hard work in achieving success. The Principal's speech emphasized the importance of not just academic excellence but also the development of skills, leadership, and discipline outside the classroom.

Various categories of awards were distributed during the ceremony. Academic excellence awards were given to the top-performing students in each department, with special recognition for those who secured first position in university exams. The students who had participated in sports, cultural activities, and student leadership roles were also acknowledged for their achievements. This was an inclusive event that ensured all-round recognition.

The event concluded with a vote of thanks by the Head of the IQAC, who expressed gratitude to the faculty, students, and organizing committee for their hard work in making the event a success. The ceremony was not only about awards but also about motivating students to continue their pursuit of excellence in all aspects of life.

The prize distribution ceremony was a fitting celebration of the students' efforts and an inspiring event that underscored the value of holistic development. The students left the seminar room with a renewed sense of purpose and commitment to their academic and personal growth.

Report on a Special Talk on “The Changing Perspectives in Crime and Political Reporting”

Speaker: Shri Abhishek Pal

Date: 05/03/2024

Time: 12:00 PM

Venue: College Seminar Room

Organized by: Dept. of Journalism & IQAC

On 5th March 2024, the Department of Journalism and IQAC organized a thought-provoking Special Talk on "The Changing Perspectives in Crime and Political Reporting", delivered by renowned journalist Shri Abhishek Pal. The talk, which started at 12:00 PM, took place in the College Seminar Room, and was attended by students, faculty, and professionals from the field of media and journalism.

Shri Abhishek Pal, with his extensive experience in crime and political reporting, spoke about the evolving role of journalists in covering sensitive topics such as crime, corruption, and political developments. He began by discussing the traditional methods of crime reporting and how the media's approach has evolved over the years due to the influence of digital media, social networks, and citizen journalism. He pointed out the significant changes in how crime stories are reported and how political news coverage now requires a careful, fact-checked approach to avoid bias and misinformation.

A key point in the talk was the impact of new media technologies such as social media platforms, which often present unverified information, thus complicating the role of traditional journalists. Shri Pal emphasized the ethical responsibility of journalists to report with integrity, verifying facts before publication and considering the social implications of their work. He also highlighted the challenges that journalists face when reporting on

On 14th March 2024, the Department of Commerce and IQAC organized a special lecture on “Business, Office and Accounting Applications of MS-Excel”, delivered by CA Sunil Kumar Gandhi. The lecture, which took place at 11:30 AM in the College Seminar Room, focused on the practical uses of Microsoft Excel in business and accounting functions, which are essential skills for students pursuing careers in commerce, finance, and administration.

The session was designed to be interactive, with CA Sunil Kumar Gandhi demonstrating how MS-Excel is an indispensable tool for data analysis, financial modeling, budgeting, and maintaining records. He shared numerous tips and tricks to enhance productivity and accuracy when working with Excel, such as advanced formulas, pivot tables, and data visualization techniques. Gandhi also discussed the application of Excel in maintaining financial accounts, such as balance sheets, profit and loss statements, and income statements.

A significant portion of the lecture was dedicated to real-world examples of how businesses use Excel for decision-making, financial forecasting, and operational efficiency. CA Gandhi provided case studies and shared insights into the common pitfalls businesses face when managing data, and how Excel’s features can solve these challenges.

Students were encouraged to use Excel not only for their academic assignments but also as a critical tool in their professional careers. The lecture concluded with a hands-on session, where students practiced using the techniques demonstrated earlier. CA Gandhi provided further guidance, and students had the opportunity to ask specific questions about their own Excel-related challenges.

This session was an invaluable learning experience for students, giving them the technical skills needed to excel in business environments and prepare for the workforce. It was a practical, engaging, and educational event that added significant value to the students' understanding of office applications.

The college believes in not just studying but also doing good for society. That's why they have the NSS unit, where students volunteer for different projects. These projects can include things like cleaning up neighbourhoods, helping at old age homes, or teaching underprivileged kids. Participating in the State NSS Awards Programme is a big deal. It shows that DDMRM and its students are serious about helping others. They don't just talk about making a difference; they actually go out and do it. By going to this event, the students get recognized for their hard work. It's like getting a pat on the back for doing something good. For the students, being part of NSS is more than just a resume booster. It teaches them important life skills like leadership, teamwork, and empathy. They learn to work together to solve problems and make a positive impact on their community. When colleges like DDMRM encourage students to get involved in activities like NSS, they're not just shaping them into better students, but into better people. They're creating a culture where helping others is valued and celebrated. And events like the State NSS Awards Programme are a way to honor those who go above and beyond to make a difference in the world.

administrative staff, and students gathering to celebrate his contributions to the college over the years. The event began with a warm introduction by the Principal, who spoke about Sukharanjan Das's exceptional dedication to his role as a teacher and his impact on the lives of countless students. The Principal praised his academic rigor, his kindness, and his efforts in shaping the future of his students both inside and outside the classroom. It was a moment of reflection on how far the institution had come, partly due to the collective contributions of such teachers.

Following the introduction, various colleagues and students shared their personal anecdotes and memories of working with and learning from Sukharanjan Das. Several of his students gave speeches, expressing gratitude for the knowledge, discipline, and guidance they had received throughout their academic journey. The ceremony featured a multimedia presentation of Sukharanjan Das's time at the college, showcasing his career highlights, key moments, and the many student groups he had mentored. This presentation stirred emotions among those present, reminding everyone of the invaluable role that educators play in shaping lives.

The event concluded with a vote of thanks from a senior faculty member, who wished Sukharanjan Das success in his future endeavours. As a token of appreciation, the Teachers' Committee presented him with a plaque commemorating his years of service.

The farewell ceremony was a beautiful tribute to Sukharanjan Das, filled with heartfelt moments and expressions of gratitude. His legacy in the college community will undoubtedly be remembered for years to come.

The event began with a brief introduction to Tagore's life and work, led by a faculty member who highlighted Tagore's contributions to literature, music, and education. Tagore's philosophy, which emphasized humanism, unity, and the pursuit of knowledge, was discussed in the context of its relevance in the modern world. The Principal, in his opening remarks, stressed the importance of Tagore's ideas in today's society and encouraged students to draw inspiration from his writings.

A key feature of the celebration was a musical performance of Tagore's Rabindra Sangeet by a group of students. The soothing and soulful renditions of Tagore's songs resonated deeply with the audience, creating an atmosphere of reverence for the poet's legacy. The students also presented a short dramatic performance based on one of Tagore's most famous plays, which was well-received by the audience.

In addition to the performances, there was a recitation of Tagore's poems, followed by a discussion session where students and faculty shared their interpretations of his works. The session provided an opportunity for the college community to engage in intellectual discourse about Tagore's philosophy and the influence of his work on global literature.

The celebration concluded with a vote of thanks from the Chair of the Cultural Committee, who expressed gratitude to everyone involved in organizing the event. Students left the seminar room inspired by Tagore's teachings, which continue to remain relevant across time and cultures.

Throughout the course, students engaged with key texts, discussed important feminist issues, and examined how feminist philosophy has influenced social and political movements. The course also encouraged critical reflection on the intersection of gender, race, class, and sexuality in philosophical discourse.

The certificate course was well-received by students, with many expressing their interest in applying feminist philosophy to their academic work and future careers. The course was designed to foster an inclusive and critical approach to philosophy, empowering students to challenge traditional frameworks and engage with contemporary issues of gender and social justice.

Organized by: NSS

The Yoga Day Celebration on 21st June 2024 was an engaging and rejuvenating event organized by the National Service Scheme (NSS). It took place at 1:00 PM in the College Seminar Room and aimed to promote physical and mental well-being through yoga and mindfulness practices.

The celebration started with a brief introduction by the NSS Coordinator, who emphasized the importance of yoga in maintaining both physical and mental health, especially in today's fast-paced and stressful world. The event included a yoga session, led by an experienced instructor, where students and faculty participated in various yoga postures, breathing exercises, and relaxation techniques.

The session focused on enhancing flexibility, reducing stress, and improving concentration. Participants also learned about the mental benefits of yoga, such as increased mindfulness and emotional stability. The session was interactive, with students asking questions about the significance of different poses and techniques in promoting overall health.
